

Instructions for Accessing Scientific Articles On-line

1. Enter "Antarctic Meteorite Research" in "Journal" column, and then specify the year that you are looking for. Then, you can see all the articles in the volume of the year. You can also specify author and articles in the search paper in advance.
2. Click "Full Text" for the article you want (don't click on the article title or you may be prompted for a password) and then a small window "Full Text" shows up. Click "Full Text" in the small window, then you can see the article with title and abstract. Click "PDF" at the bottom of the page to get the full paper.

There are two reminders:

1. Since all these articles here are converted into PDF files from printed volume, the photomicrographs and other pictures do not appear as fancy as in the original.
2. Antarctic Meteorite Research (Vol.10, 1997 - Vol. 18, 2005) was previously named Proceedings of the NIPR Symposium on Antarctic Meteorites (Vol 1, 1988 - Vol.9, 1996).

Thus, when you search a paper in the website, please use the two different Journal names, dependent on the year published.

It appears that the abstract volumes (e.g., Antarctic Meteorites XXVIII) are not (yet) available.
