Mars Science News

The final announcement has been posted for the 3rd 2020 Mars Rover Landing Site Workshop

February 8-10, 2017 @ Monrovia, CA

http://marsnext.jpl.nasa.gov/workshops/wkshp_2017_02.cfm

The 3rd landing site selection workshop for the 2020 Mars Rover mission will be held at the DoubleTree Hotel, Monrovia, CA, on February 8-10, 2017. The primary goal of the third workshop will be to further evaluate the eight candidate landing sites that emerged from the second workshop and reduce the number of candidate sites remaining under consideration to three or four.

Presenters at the workshop are expected to make a comprehensive, persuasive talk on why a specific site is the right one for the 2020 mission and payload, including how and where the science objectives of the mission can be accomplished. The agenda has been posted and is available for download at: http://marsnext.jpl.nasa.gov/workshops/wkshp_2017_02.cfm.

Additional information on the science of the eight candidate sites, and information on how the 2020 engineering constraints map to the eight candidate sites, is posted to the Background Tab of the website: <http://marsnext.jpl.nasa.gov/background.cfm>.

Workshop connection instructions for Adobe Connect: Using any Internet Browser, go to <https://ac.arc.nasa.gov/mars2020>. If you are a NASA employee, you can use your NDC credentials to login (just like NASA webmail). Otherwise, you can choose the option to "Enter as a Guest". Type your name in the field provided and click "Enter Room".

For audio, please dial into the following teleconference line: Telecon: 1-844-467-4685 Passcode: 312989#

This connection will be globally muted, so please post questions and comments in the chatroom. We will be reviewing these for relay to the presenters as they arrive and as time permits. Kindly note that only those in physical attendance at the workshop are permitted to participate in the voting process.

Updated agenda for MEPAG Meeting 33

February 22-23, 2017 @ Monrovia, CA

<http://mepag.nasa.gov/meetings.cfm?expand=m33>

Jeffrey Johnson, MEPAG Chair, cordially invites members of the Mars science and exploration communities, including our international colleagues, to attend the 2017 face-to-face meeting of the Mars Exploration Program Analysis Group (MEPAG), scheduled for February 22-23, 2017, at the DoubleTree Hotel in Monrovia, CA. The meeting is planned for two full days, and will be webcast for those who cannot attend in-person.

Given that the transition associated with a new administration is still ongoing and that NASA is operating under a Continuing Resolution, NASA and MEPAG have agreed that discussions of possible missions beyond the currently approved 2020 Mars Rover mission be deferred to a later date. A new MEPAG meeting is being considered for mid-summer with the expectation that policy and budget plans for the future can be shared in either a virtual or face-to-face venue. The February meeting will focus on the ongoing activities of current missions whether operating or in development, reports from various conferences and analysis groups, international projects, and possible preparations leading to the next decadal survey. The revised agenda is given here.

3rd Planetary Data Workshop

June 12-15, 2017 @ USGS, Flagstaff, AZ

The 3rd Planetary Data Workshop will be held in Flagstaff, AZ to cover a range of planetary data topics, including mission data availability and tools, data access capabilities, data user training, GIS, planetary mapping, PDS data, services, and capabilities. Please submit an Indication of Interest by Friday, February 10, 2017, to receive reminders about this meeting.

9th International Radar/SAR Summer School

July 14-21, 2017 @ Haus Umboldtsein, Germany

Fraunhofer FHR, one of Europe's leading radar research institutes, which has pioneered radar and SAR research and development over the decades, is pleased to announce the 9th International Summer School on Radar/SAR, which will take place from 14-21 July 2017. We cordially invite students, PhD candidates, post-docs and anyone else eager to broaden and deepen their understanding of radar and SAR techniques to participate in our truly international summer school. Internationally renowned experts from across Europe, USA and Canada make up the summer school lecture team. This is a unique opportunity to gain an in-depth appreciation of modern radar and SAR systems whilst absorbing the multifarious atmosphere of the famous Upper Middle Rhine region. Participation in the programme of social activities with the international group of attendees will inspire and enrich your learning experience. See <http://www.radarsummerschool.fraunhofer.de> for further information and to download the Application form. Specific queries regarding the summer school should be addressed to: matthias.weiss@fhr.fraunhofer.de.

2017 NASA Planetary Science Summer Seminar Announced

July 24-28, 2017 @ JPL/Pasadena, CA, USA,

Application deadline: April 3, 2017 5pm CST

<https://psss.jpl.nasa.gov/index.cfm>

NASA is accepting applications from engineering students within 6-9 months of completion of their masters degree (but not planning to pursue a PhD degree), science and engineering post-docs, recent PhDs, and doctoral students, for its 29th Annual Planetary Science Summer Seminar, which will be held July 24-28, 2017 at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, CA. During the program and pre-session webinars, student teams will carry out the equivalent of an early mission concept study, prepare a proposal authorization presentation, present it to a review board, and receive feedback. By the end of the session, students will have a clearer understanding of the life cycle of a space mission; relationships between mission design, cost, and schedule; and the tradeoffs necessary to stay within cost and schedule while preserving the quality of science. Applications are due April 3, 2017. Partial financial support may be available. Further information is available at <http://psss.jpl.nasa.gov>.

Icarus Special Issue for Mars Polar Science: Extension for Submission

Extended Submission Deadline: March 1, 2017

The Scientific Organizing Committee is organizing a special issue of Icarus related to Mars Polar research, particularly in the fields of polar geology, glaciology, climate record, atmospheric dynamics, terrestrial analogs, ground ice, geochemistry, and Mars polar surface activity. In recognition of the broad scope, interdisciplinary nature, and strong international interest in this topic, we welcome the participation of any interested scientist with relevant theoretical, experimental, or field experience. This special issue is open to all interested authors with Mars Polar related research to publish, whether they attended the conference or not. We will happily accept notices of intent (NOIs) from prospective authors.

Author guidelines for preparation of manuscript can be found at:

http://www.elsevier.com/wps/find/journaldescription.cws_home/505620/authorinstructions

For more information, please contact the editorial office at icarus@astro.cornell.edu, or the guest editors: Adrian Brown, abrown@seti.org and Michael Sori, michael.sori@gmail.com.

April 5	3rd Planetary Data Workshop , Abstract deadline
April 20	Accretion Building New Worlds , Indication of Interest deadline

Upcoming Conferences and Workshops

A note about “conferences” and this calendar of events

- Missing NCTS#s (and forecasting deadline, if anomalous) can be sent to Barbara Saltzberg (Barbara.a.saltzberg@jpl.nasa.gov).
- If no deadline is noted: it is usually 90 days in advance — sometimes further in advance if the conference is “Heavily Attended.”
- Please do not assume our noting of NCTS# is complete. If you are unsure whether an event is a conference or not, or when the forecasting deadline may be, please consult with your NASA Center conference forecasting/travel unit.
